Course Description: Adobe Illustrator is a complex vector-based software used to create many digital art and text where vector graphics are needed. In this class we will be learning the what and why of vector graphics, how to use this software to create basic illustrations, as well as some more advanced techniques. We will be creating various projects in class and at home to learn these skills. This is a fun software to learn with so much possibility! Let's learn together! For this class, the student will need an ink pen (no pencils), a sketchbook, a subscription to Adobe Creative Cloud, internet access and their laptop in class each week. These supplies are absolute requirements. While we will be working on projects in class, students will need to be able to spend some time to work on these projects at home during the week.

Note: This is not an art class and students do not need to have art skills to be effective in this class. Those skills are helpful, but not a requirement.
